GERMAN ARMIES IN NORTHERN ITALY AND WESTERN AUSTRIA SURRENDER TO ALLIES

BRITISH DRIVE NORTH FROM ELBE RIVER

German Troops Fleeing Madly Toward Denmark Through Shell Racked Corridor

VON RUNDSTEDT TAKEN

BULLETIN
U. S. Ninth Army on the Elbe, Germany, May 2.—(P)—The Ninth Army has established new contacts with the Russians north of Magdeburg in the Arneburg and Wittenberge areas, 45 and 60 miles northwest of Berlin.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Paris, May 2.—(P)—British troops driving swiftly in a breakthrough north of the Elbe river came within nine miles today of cutting off Denmark and Schleswig-Holstein.

German troops fled madly toward Denmark through the shell raked corridor near Luebeck, trying to escape both the British and the Russians.

In the south, the Texas (36th) Division of the Seventh army captured Field Marshal Von Rundstedt.

The Seventh was fighting through the Alpine passes within ten miles of the Austrian tyrol capital of Innsbruck and a dozen miles of the Brenner Pass. A hundred miles of snow-capped Alps lay between Lt. Gen. Alexander Patch's army and the Allies driving up from Italy.

Gen. Patton's Third army moved within 30 miles of Salzburg and 44 of Berchtesgaden in the area of Braunau where Hitler was born. His tanks closed within 18 miles on Linz and less than 40 of the Russians at Amstettin. A junction will cut the southern redoubt away from Czechoslovakia where the Nazis have their last heavy industries.

In the north, the British bypassed Hamburg, broke German lines northeast of the Elbe and advanced to within 14 miles of Luebeck, whose capture would split the north German pocket and seal off Denmark and Schleswig-Holstein. The Tommies captured Stade, just west of besieged Hamburg and 78 miles south of the border of Denmark, which some

Truman Pledges OPA Confidence

Washington, May 2.—(P)—A presidential vote of confidence in OPA carried with it today a pledge of full White House support of the agency's much-debated policies.

This was learned as some senators showed resentment over President Truman's reference to "irresponsible criticisms" yesterday in prodding congress for reenactment of price controls.

Both Republicans and Democrats in key positions said the price control act expiring June 30 undoubtedly will be renewed. But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said "the president's indiscriminate praise of the OPA has removed any possibility of a unanimous report" from the banking committee considering the legislation.

HUNDREDS OF BILLS DIE IN CONGRESS

Harrisburg, May 2.—(P)—Bills by the hundreds officially died in committee today under administration plans to wind up the assembly session this week-end.

Senate and house leaders Sheldon B. Heyburn and Franklin H. Lichtenwalter said measures still in committee to which they were sent upon introduction will not be released.

A minimum of five days is required to get legislation through. Any bill not already out of committee in one house or the other could not pass before scheduled adjournment Saturday.

Truman Says Only Folly And Chaos Can Delay Capitulation

Washington, May 2.—(P)—President Truman today announced the unconditional surrender of German forces in Italy and said: "Only folly and chaos can now delay the general capitulation everywhere of the German armies."

Enemy Forces Of Almost A Million Men Capitulate

By HERBERT K. KING
Representing the Combined American Forces
Royal Palace at Caserta, Italy, May 2.—(AP)—German armies in northern Italy and western Austria formally surrendered to the Allies effective at 12 noon GMT. (8 a. m. Eastern War Time) today.

The surrender affects from 600,000 to 900,000 men commanded by Col. Gen. Heinrich von Viettinghoff and Gen. Karl Volff, the chief of police and security for northern Italy and western Austria.

The surrender will allow the Allies to advance unhindered to within 10 miles of Berchtesgaden and uncovers General Lehr's flank defending the Trieste area.

British Lt. Gen. W. D. Morgan, who negotiated in behalf of Field Marshal Sir Harold L. Alexander, Allied commander in the Mediterranean, said that the "terms in effect are complete and unconditional surrender."

By NOLAN NORGAARD
Rome, May 2.—(P)—Col. Gen. Heinrich von Viettinghoff today unconditionally surrendered all German land, sea and air forces in Italy and southern Austria.

Soviets Close In On Reich's Chancellery

By the Associated Press
London, May 2.—Soviet shock troops closed in on Hitler's Reich chancellery and other final nests of resistance in Berlin today, and a Paris broadcast said without confirmation that the Red army flag already flew from the chancellery—by Nazi account the deathplace of the fuhrer.

A Pravda war correspondent declared trapped Nazis in the Tiergarten area had made another concentrated effort to break out through sewers and tunnels, but were repulsed.

The chancellery had been under mortar and howitzer fire for three days and four nights, Moscow dispatches said.

German positions in this crumbling heart of Berlin are chaotic, Pravda said, and Russians are closing in step by step in heavy fighting. German planes again last night parachuted in supplies, and the Germans do not lack for ammunition, the front reporters said.

The Hamburg radio today said the Soviets had deepened their penetrations into the Wilhelmstrasse, chief government quarter. Soviet forces hacked their way to the barricaded entrances of the German underground Tiergarten fortress and battered at the island of resistance centering around the Reich chancellery and the great subterranean fortress with which it reportedly was linked by tunnels.

As Nazi resistance in the capital neared total collapse, Marshal

Landing Made By Allies In Burma

Calcutta, May 2.—(P)—British warships have poured Allied forces ashore on the Burma coast on both sides of Rangoon following initial parachute landings in the area, the southeast Asia command announced today.

At last reports other British troops driving down from the north toward the Burma capital were less than 36 miles from the city.

A southeast Asia communique announced that on Monday and Tuesday a force of battleships, cruisers and destroyers of the East Indies fleet bombarded airfields on Car Nicobar, in the bay of Bengal, midway between the Andaman and the main Nicobar islands.

This strike was followed up by an air attack from aircraft carriers.

Later in the day a similar force attacked port installations at Port Blair.

had sent congratulatory messages to the Allied commanders, the president added:

"Let Japan as well as Germany understand the meaning of these events."

Congratulatory messages were addressed to Gen. Mark W. Clark and British Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander.

Doughboys In Outskirts Of Davao City

Manila, May 2.—(P)—American confirmation of the reported Allied invasion of Borneo was expected today as U. S. Doughboys, meeting surprisingly light resistance, moved into the very outskirts of Davao, last big Philippine city in Japanese hands.

Japanese broadcasts reported that 5,000 Allied assault troops, pouring from three cruisers and 13 destroyers, landed at 6:30 yesterday morning at Linkas, on Tarkakan, oil port island just off Borneo's northwest coast. Japan said an earlier try was repulsed.

Later, Australian acting prime minister Joseph Chifley reported a veteran Aussie division, seasoned fighters from middle east battles, was participating in an invasion of Borneo, rich in oil and rubber.

United Nations Conference Now Over Its Worst Hurdles

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
San Francisco, May 2.—(P)—The United Nations conference today appeared safely past its worst obstacles to success in creating a world security organization. But several major arguments still lie ahead.

The Dumbarton Oaks proposal that veto controls be placed in the hands of the great powers on the inner security council already is a subject of bath attack and defense.

Announcement of 16 United States amendments to the Dumbarton Oaks plan, which this country, Britain, Russia and China worked out last fall at Washington as a basis for this conference, is due in the next day or so.

Officials describe these as mainly technical but it is expected that they might cover such points as guarantees of justice in enforcement of peace, provision for revising the proposed security organization charter as future needs may indicate, and provision for recommending treaty changes when deemed necessary to help preserve peace.

One of the big questions yet without an answer is how much regional organizations as the inter-American system worked out recently at Mexico City are to be fitted into the proposed United Nations system.

Following an extraordinary night session last night, chief delegates of the 46 United Nations sought to wind up organization of the week-old conference quickly. The idea is to let the four big commissions and 12 committees buckle down by the weekend to their real work of revising and completing the Dumbarton Oaks plan.

The last potentially big issue growing out of the organization of the conference by the sponsoring powers, United States, Russia, Britain and China, was met yesterday. This was when committee chairmen were chosen without another dispute which might have put Russia in a minority position as she was on trying to block the invitation to Argentina Monday.

The only difference of opinion at yesterday's steering committee meeting came on the question of voting in this conference.

SEVEN BILLION TO BE CUT IN SHIP PROGRAM
Washington, May 2.—(P)—President Truman urged congress today to cut more than $7,000,000 from the current appropriation and contract authorization for maritime commission ship construction.

In a letter to congress the chief executive asked repeal of an appropriation of $3,100,000,000 and of contract authorizations totaling $4,265,000,000.

Adolf Hitler's Successor Shakes Up Nazi Military and Diplomatic Fronts

Hitler Utterances Conflict With Deeds

London, May 2.—(P)—Adolf Hitler apparently felt no need to reconcile word with deed.

Here are some excerpts from speeches that claimed the interest of listeners around the world.

April, 1930—I have regarded myself as called on by providence to serve by own people and alone deliver them from their frightful misery.

November, 1932—I was mad, I would want war.

September, 1939—Germany will never capitulate.

September, 1939—I will not war against women and children. I have ordered by air force to restrict itself to attacks on military objectives.

June, 1934—The Reich will last a thousand years.

SEIZURE OF ANTHRACITE MINES LOOMS

War Labor Board Strongly Hints Presidential Intervention May Be Next Step In Dispute

ICKES READY TO ACT

BULLETIN
New York, May 2.—(P)—A possible agreement between miners and anthracite operators on the question of travel time pay—chief issue blocking the way to a new hard coal contract—was foreseen today by officials of the United Mine Workers, who said the favorable outlook had caused them to delay a meeting of their scale committee.

Washington, May 2.—(P)—Government seizure of idle anthracite mines loomed today if the pits remain idle as a result of stalemated contract negotiations. The War Labor Board strongly hinted it would ask presidential intervention, and Interior Secretary Ickes said "I'm ready to take over."

Operators agreed to a contract extension but asked that it be limited to 30 days to restrict the eventual liability of operators to make retroactive pay increases. Union representatives said the scale committee in New York would have to decide the UMW's position.

The contract negotiations have resumed there at 2 p. m. today.

New Head Man?

Admiral Karl Doenitz has become fuhrer of the Nazis, according to an announcement made by the Hamburg radio which said that Adolf Hitler had been killed in Berlin. Doenitz was introduced by the announcer as "our new fuhrer."

Missing Bear Lake Soldier Believed Dead

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Perkins, of Bear Lake, have been notified by the Navy Department that their son, Leo D. Perkins, electrician's mate first class, who was reported missing in action April 11, 1944, is now presumed to be dead.

Young Perkins was never seen again after the ship on which he was serving was torpedoed on that date in the Mediterranean area.

Word has also just been received here that Dr. W. E. Bartlett, former pastor of First Methodist church of Warren, has been notified that his son, Lt. William Emerson Bartlett, 28, was killed in a plane crash in the Philippine Islands recently.

Lt. Bartlett was graduated from Kane High School in the Class of 1935 and held letters in both varsity basketball and football.

Okinawa Garrison Reduced One-Half

By AL DOPKING
Guam, May 2.—(P)—Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., whose Tenth army troops today fought within rifle range of southern Okinawa's three main cities, estimates that one half of the island's original Japanese garrison have been killed, wounded or captured.

The original Japanese garrison was believed to total about 60,000.

Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley's 96th division was less than half a mile from Shuri, in the hilly center of the island, about midway between Naha on the west coast and Yonabaru on the east.

The Japanese were making a desperate stand before this central key to the defenses of their remaining one fourth of the narrow island. American gains were measured by slow, bloody yards.

Doughboys of Maj. Gen. George W. Griner's 27th Division pushed to within a mile and a half of Naha, capital and largest city.

RABID DOG BITES 22

Pittsburgh, May 2.—(P)—Charles R. Cook, of National Tube Co., was among 22 persons bitten by a dog in suburban Shadyside and later given anti-rabies treatment, health officials said today. Cook was on a train en route to Philadelphia when he read the dog had been found rabid. He returned immediately to Pittsburgh.

Office of Civilian Defense Abolished

Washington, May 2.—(P)—President Truman today abolished the Office of Civilian Defense.

The home front organization is to be liquidated between now and June 30.

Withdrawing a proposed $369,000 budget for OCD for the next fiscal year, Mr. Truman said:

"This change does not in any respect lessen the need for volunteer efforts in our states and communities."

SKEPTICISM EXPRESSED OVER HAMBURG BROADCAST OF THE DEATH OF GERMAN FUEHRER

Army Commander in Chief in Norway Radio Order of Day From Oslo Pledges Alliance and Calls Forces to Continue Battle

NO WORD OF GOERING, GOEBBELS AND HIMMLER

By the Associated Press
London, May 2.—Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz moved swiftly today in his role of successor to Adolf Hitler to shake up the Nazi military and diplomatic fronts in efforts apparently directed toward a last-ditch fight in Norway.

However, 15 hours after the Hamburg radio had announced the death of Hitler not a single top-ranking Nazi party man and only one commander had come forth to pledge allegiance to Doenitz as fuhrer.

One of the first acts of Doenitz was to dismiss Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and replace him with Count Lutz Schwerin-Krosigk, finance minister in the Franz von Papen and Schleicher cabinets, which immediately preceded Hitler's rise to power.

Gen. Franz Boehme, army commander in chief in Norway, broadcast an order of the day over the Oslo radio pledging alliance to (Turn to Page Five)

Doenitz Looms As Possible Wrench In Peace Maneuvers

By EDWARD J. DENNEHY
London, May 2.—(P)—Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, ruthless fanatic who has assumed command of the blasted German army's ragtag remnants, loomed today as a possible monkey wrench in the reported peace maneuvers of Heinrich Himmler.

Some statesmen looked upon his assumption of power as evidence of a split among the remaining top-ranking Nazis, but it was admitted that the development was a very puzzling one.

It apparently came as a distinct surprise to members of the British cabinet, who were reported to have conferred with Prime Minister Churchill until the early hours of this morning.

Speculation centered on the possibility that within what remains of Germany there may have risen two distinct parties—a war group as represented by Doenitz and a peace group as represented by Himmler.

But the consensus was that nothing Doenitz could do would materially affect the course of the war, and in some quarters the belief was expressed that Doenitz's rise to leadership might even indirectly hasten the peace.

If Hitler actually is dead, then Doenitz probably is the leader of the die-hard Nazis who have nothing to lose by continuing the hopeless battle. It was Doenitz, when things looked black for Germany, who preached the doctrine that "no situation is ever hopeless."

There was some feeling here that he might now attempt a last-ditch U-boat blitz against the British Isles with whatever strength he could muster from dying Germany.

The supreme headquarters statement added that at that time, more than a week before Hitler's purported hero's death was announced by the Hamburg radio, Himmler had said Hitler "could not be expected to live more than two days longer."

German General Schillinger who was present at the meeting said Hitler was suffering from a brain hemorrhage, the statement said.

"Admiral Doenitz's statement therefore that Hitler met a hero's death at his post is in contradiction with the facts given by Himmler and General Schillinger," the supreme headquarters statement said.

Can Warren merchants—39 of them—sell $144,500 worth of Bonds in the coming Seventh War Loan?

If each one of those 39 merchants personally buckles down to the job—and each one of the employees of each of those 39 merchants does the same—can they sell an average of nearly $4,000 per store? An average of $4,000, taking the big stores and the little stores and lumping them all together?

That is one of the big Question Marks on the Seventh War Loan, and on the answer will, to some extent, depend the success of the drive, according to the belief of Bill Yeager, chairman of the General Committee, who has invited the merchants to get in with both feet—in fact, with all their collective feet—and is putting a lot of dependence in them. Ben Kinnear, chairman of the Retail Committee, believes the merchants can do it. He has worked hard to plan a unified effort. Each one of the 39 merchants has accepted a quota ranging from a low of $500 to a high of $60,000 for the individual stores.

To get this merchants' campaign off to a thunderbolt start, a rousing meeting is to be held.

WHEN? Tonight, Wednesday, at 7:30.

WHERE? In the large Court Room of the Court House.

WHO? Every participating merchant is expected to be there, and to bring with him every one of his employees who can possibly come. A minimum attendance of 150 is anticipated.

Feature of the evening will be the appearance of the Veteran Bomber Crew led by Lt. John W. Treble, Pilot, who will tell of their experiences in all theatres of war.

Action Needed To Secure Improvement of Route Six

Word received in Warren this morning is to the effect that unless some action is taken immediately the planned improvement of Route 6 across the state will not be done. With the aid of State and Federal Funds it had been planned to rebuild into a four lane highway Route Six across the state. Inasmuch as this is the only national highway reaching from coast to coast it was held that its rebuilding as a post war Federal and State project was assured.

Now it has been learned that New York State workers have secured the Federal approval of the building of New York State Route 20 into a four lane highway. Inasmuch as this route is not a direct east and west highway, as is Route 6 it is held that this plan is not in accord with needs of the traveling public.

Route 6 boosters of Wellsboro have been aroused and State Senator L. E. Chapman has been contacted and McKean county residents are planning to have State Senator James S. Berger get busy with the State Highway Department to have the plan changed.

Workers for Route 6 across the state are being roused in an effort to have the Federal Government aid the improvement of Route 6 with Federal funds. Under the Federal post-war road building plan the cost of a cross state highway would be $100,000 per mile. The passage of bills in the state legislature to extend the Pennsylvania Turnpike from Irwin to Erie assures a route in that section which would be a round-about piece of travel and would force trucks and pleasure cars headed for Connecticut and points east to drive considerably out of their way.

From all indications the Chambers of Commerce along Route 6 will aid in pushing the improvement of this highway and in the securing of Federal Funds for building purposes.

Surveyors of the State Highway Department are now at work on Route 6 and under the plan as made by them the curves at the mineral well will be eliminated, curves near Beantown will also be straightened out and other improvements made.

Arthur J. Franks Is Named Vice-President Sherwood Oil

Announcement was made this week by H. H. Sherwood, president of the Sherwood Oil Company that as a portion of the plan for the carrying out a program of continued growth and expansion of the company, Mr. Franks will be in charge of manufacturing and will join the main office staff at the end of this year or as soon as all necessary arrangements can be made for turning over his responsibilities at the Warren plant to his successor. Until such arrangements can be completed Mr. Franks will remain in the refinery as an adviser and to aid in the reorganization of the staff of the Warren plant.

Warren friends of Mr. Franks are extending congratulations to him while it will be with regret that they will see him leave this city. Mr. Franks came to Warren 13 years ago and at that time the Sherwood Refinery was a much smaller plant than at the present time. Under his direction it has been greatly enlarged and modernized and made one of the city's outstanding industries.

Other changes announced for the local plant call for the promotion of several men well known in the city. John C. Ellis will become Refinery Manager and he will be in complete charge of the refining plant here and responsible for the administration of its affairs.

Dr. Richard E. McArthur has been promoted to the new position of operating superintendent. He will serve as the first assistant to the refinery manager and will be responsible primarily for the handling of the technical phases of the operations.

Dexter Marsh will continue to serve as production superintendent. He will be responsible for controlling production activities associated with the routine manufacture and shipment of products.

Ned Johnson will continue in his present capacity as purchasing and shipping superintendent and carry substantially the same responsibilities he has at present.

Robert E. Parker will assume the position of refinery chemist and be concerned mainly with refining problems and experimental work.

In the announcement President Sherwood also states that the company will continue to strengthen and build up the refinery organization as the need may require.

Much Damage Done to Crops During Night

The frost that covered this area during the night was the most damaging of those that have been felt during the spring season. Damage done to growing crops was great and many flowers were withered by the onslaught of the elements. Those who reside in the countryside state that the vegetation was damp and that the frost literally cooked everything that it touched.

Fruit growers, who had felt that previous frosts had not greatly damaged buds and blossoms stated this morning that the finish had been put on many of the trees as far as production was concerned.

Many persons who had flowers coming along in good shape state that the plants were withered down this morning and that replanting will be necessary if there are to be any blossoms this coming summer.

The weather report today is fair and warmer but it is feared that it is too late to save the crops.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE
In the opinion of DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst, Hitler dead or alive—the immutable fact is that he has destroyed the Reich and changed the face of Europe.

Germany is beaten, but our concern must be whether in her death throes she will drag other continental countries down into the morass of economic and political chaos which the Hitlerian war has created. One suspects that the Allied trials in Europe are far from over, and that many dangers lie ahead.

When Hitler was preparing to invade Holland and Belgium in 1940 he issued an order of the day in which he told his troops: "The fight beginning today decides the fate of the German nation for the next 1000 years."

He spoke with prophetic voice, for he has burned his Germany and while no man can foresee just what will arise from the ashes, it will be a far different state. But he did more than destroy the Reich, for he set in motion elements which bid fair to change the complexion of the eastern hemisphere.

The story of Hitler's death is almost too good to be true, and certainly can't be accepted until proof is forthcoming, because there's such a strong possibility of trickery. However, if the Nazis are trying to perpetrate a hoax, they won't succeed, for the Allies are on the alert. Both Moscow and London have made it known that Hitler's body will have to be produced before the tale will be accepted.

We can't dismiss Hitler as he do the buffoon Mussolini, for the Nazi fuhrer has left on the German people a mark which the Allies may find it difficult to erase in the process of post-war reconstruction. We have here the paradox of one of the most evil men of history actually being regarded as spiritual leader by many Germans, especially of the young generation. Hitler himself claimed to be ordained by providence, and he encouraged the idea that he was in fact a messiah. Strange as it seems to the outside world, he was accorded this status by thousands.

Thus the German nation has become so dependent on Hitler, not only as dictator but as spiritual leader, that it will have difficulty in readjusting itself to a new life.

Admiral Doenitz, who is announced by the Nazi radio as the new fuhrer, is another bad man. So if he really has assumed power, he will be up to no good, we may be sure. Since he is a submarine expert, he might even try a final fling at Allied shipping with the German U-boat fleet.

GIRL SCOUT ANNIVERSARY
Warren County Girl Scout Council history notes that formation of the council on May 2, 1935, was almost entirely due to the foresight of two leaders, Mrs. I. G. Darling of Russell and Mrs. E. P. Wroth of Warren. It also records some of the officers who have seen the council through its early period of "growing pains" and lists the current roster at 800 Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts.

In extending its best wishes for many more decades of useful and happy service to the girls of this and surrounding communities, the Times-Mirror would like to pay tribute to all adult leaders who bring the Girl Scouting total to well over 1,000, and stress the need of even greater cooperation on the part of parents and other civic and youth minded women and older girls if the past ten years' record is to be duplicated or bettered by 1955.

And don't forget when V-E Day actually comes, there will be a great weight lifted momentarily from many shoulders—and then realization that very day, another big war must be hurried to a conclusion against the Nips.

News from San Francisco fails to take note of the fact that Argentina still is at war with Japan and Germany—so still you can't notice it.

The new brand of cigarets are actually old stuff, so far as Warren is concerned—hard to get!

Also I said, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?—Nehemiah 5:9.
Father! no prophet's laws I seek,
Thy laws in Nature's works appear;
I own myself corrupt and weak,
Yet will I pray, for thou wilt hear.

Diplomats Go in For Heavy Reading at 'Frisco Parley

By JAMES MARLOW
San Francisco, May 2—(AP)—The diplomats and their staffs at the security conference—go in for heavy reading.

They're here to piece together a charter—rules and regulations—for an organization to prevent future wars. The charter they turn out will be full of careful wording.

So there's a great poring over old treaties and international documents and agreements.

The library of congress tried to figure out weeks ago the kind of books—and what books—the delegates and their staffs might want when they came here.

So the librarians drew up a list of 7,000 books and documents. They brought 1,000 of them out here.

Besides digging into the old league records, the delegates have been reading much in recent theoretical writing on a world organization for peace and in recent articles on foreign affairs.

A SLIGHT CASE OF Theft
By RUFUS HEED

Chapter 21
"DON'T be a fool, Francine. I don't know where it is." Cold anger vibrated in Tom's voice. "And if you and Pete don't lay off me—I'll—"

"Turn stool—yeah—sure—we'd expect that. A lousy stool." Shripping and manning, the girl's voice rang through the little apartment. "And I'll tell you right now, Pete won't stand for it—he'll kill you and—and—if you don't come across—he'll kill me. Don't you see—you've got to—you gotta come through?"

The girl was sobbing now. The kind of deep gasping sobs that are always just on the verge of hysteria.

"Aw cut the sob stuff. You'd double-cross me any time. That's why Pete sent you over here."

"That's a lie and you know it."

"Well, if I haven't got what you want—what's the use of putting on this act? To hell with it."

"So it's an act, is it?" she taunted him. "Okay, I'll tell you how good I'll make that one. I came to tell you he holds me responsible for what you did. ME—understand? Damn you. If you don't come across I'll kill you myself!"

In the tense silence that followed this outburst, Brenda quietly opened the door and stepped out of the shadows of her apartment into the brightly lighted hall. She wiped the perspiration from the palm of her cold hand before she pushed the button to signal the elevator.

That was eight o'clock. Then it was nine and ten—and now it was eleven, and for those few fleeting hours Brenda had been happy. It was a quiet sort of happiness like forgetfulness after pain.

Out under the stars, at a table near the wall of the terrace where she could look down over the tranquil river, she had listened quietly while Christopher told her how he had tried to get into the service and ended up by taking a position in the store. A mute, inglorious job, he called it.

"Oh no, Christopher, it's anything but that," she said firmly and her voice carried conviction. "It takes courage to stay at home and work, especially when you feel everyone you meet is wondering why you're not in a uniform. But you can do it—you've got what it takes."

"You know," she added slowly, "I think a very special kind of courage is indicated when a man quietly and thoroughly does the work he has to do at home—never explaining, but always realizing he's part of the big push toward victory... even if there aren't any medals or uniforms for him—"

"You sound like the Duchess," Christopher smiled at her and waited, somehow feeling for the first time that he was falling into step with a marching procession no longer just a malcontent on the side lines—

"Some men have to do it," the sweet husky voice continued, "some one has to carry on the day by day routine at home to back the fighting lines. If the home front fails—"

Then it was her voice had faltered and Christopher had a sudden conviction she was talking of herself now—not of him... but of something in her own life he did not understand. He wondered if she was happy at home—and what she did after hours. He glanced at her quickly but the gray eyes told him nothing. In the flickering light of the hurricane candle on the table between them her eyes were inscrutable. She smiled a little, not explaining, leaving her words suspended in mid-air. A little later as they entered her apartment building, he suddenly decided he would like to meet the man she had married....

"Let me go upstairs with you and meet your husband," he said in a low voice as the elevator came down to the first floor. "I must meet him sooner or later, and this may be the best time. I won't stay long."

As they stepped into the elevator, Brenda felt his suggestion was so inevitable she might have planned the evening for this very moment.

But as they came up to her apartment, her courage faltered. She had a growing concern about the way Tom would receive the late night visitor. For some reason now, her anxiety was tinged with a persistent feeling of fear as she unlocked the door and they found themselves in the dark entrance hall.

Softly Christopher closed the door behind him. Brenda pulled the chain of a lamp on the hall table, but no light came.

"The bulb is burnt out," she laughed nervously. "You'll think I'm a poor housekeeper." A streak of light showed under the closed door of the living room and she turned quickly toward it. "We'll go right in and see Tom. He's evidently still in the living room!"

For an instant they stood together in the shadows of the hall, listening. The apartment was strangely quiet—no sound anywhere—almost too still. Brenda felt her courage waning as she stepped across the short space from the table to the living room door. Then drawing a slow deep breath she slowly opened the door.

A shiver of terror shot through her. Tom was lying on his back on the floor in the center of the room. Every lamp in the place was blazing with light.

One look at his livid face and staring eyes was enough. Before she had the power to move and step through the doorway into that sinister room, Brenda knew Tom was dead.

1935--10th Warren County Girl Scout Anniversary--1945

Girl Scout Pageant Has a Special Significance Now

When the Girl Scout pageant, "Freedom Is a Woman", was written two months ago for the Warren County Council's 10th anniversary celebration, its author, Mrs. Marshall Morrow, could not have known how perfectly timed with the world situation her effort would be.

In these days when the words "peace and freedom" are drawing hearts and minds as irresistibly as lodestones, a pageant using them as a theme is peculiarly important.

The central figure of the pageant is Freedom, who sees the faith of womankind shaken by the thunder of war. To renew hope and high courage, Freedom charges the Past and Present to call in review the great and noble deeds so that faith and hope may be renewed.

The past calls, first, a pioneer mother who pauses for a moment at the feet of Freedom while her group makes merry in a brief respite from toil.

Women who have brought freedom from pain to mankind through the ages come next. Florence Nightingale heads this band of women who have gone forth to war, beginning with Joan of Arc and including members of the War and Waves.

The women who have dared to use the might of their pens in the cause of freedom are represented by Harriet Beecher Stowe. The songs, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "Set My People Free," voice the despair of a people in bondage.

The patient, unspectacular service of teachers who guide the youth of the world in standards of right living is expressed in the appearance of Mary Lyon and of a modern teacher and her class. The group sings "Finlandia," inspired by the presence of Freedom.

Episode Six features women of many lands and many times. All that they have in common is the fact that each contributed to the world some ideal of freedom, human dignity or democracy. Included in the group are Queen Elizabeth, Susan B. Anthony, Madame Curie, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, Evangeline Booth, and Jane Addams.

The women who left their homes and journeyed across seas to establish new homes in new lands are represented by eight girls who dance a gay Swedish Polka.

Wait! Whitman's "America Sings" arranged as a choral reading makes an excellent vehicle for the girls in work clothes who typify the defense worker of all time, women who leave their firesides so that the wheels of industry may never cease to turn.

"A free people must remember to carry a love of the beautiful in their hearts." Dancing and pantomime are combined in a duet portraying the part that women have played in painting, sculpture, music, drama and ballet in Episode Nine.

The last episode brings the performance to a finale which must remain a surprise.

All friends of Girl Scouting are invited to attend the pageant Friday evening, May 4, at eight o'clock in the auditorium of Warren High School. Admission is free.

Greetings From Boy Scouts Of Warren County

On the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Warren County Girl Scout Council, the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, extends its greetings and congratulations. Ten years of rapid organization and growth is an accomplishment in which all Warren county citizens can take just pride, and is a source of real satisfaction to the men and women who "pioneered" the movement in Warren county as well as those who are active in its leadership today.

To know that you've been a steady influence, that you've contributed to the making of a devoted and wholesome citizen, and that you've planted high ideals in the hearts of girls and young womanhood that will be an invaluable asset for the rest of their (Turn to Page Seven)

East Street PTA To Sponsor Troop If Need Is Shown

One of the important items taken up at the April meeting of the East Street PTA was the request of Mrs. William Glassman that the unit sponsor a Girl Scout troop. A survey will be made of girls 9, 10 and 11 years old and, if the need for a troop exists, the unit voted to be its sponsor. Several persons volunteered as leaders if the troop is organized.

Miss Jane Holt, principal, spoke of the Seventh War Loan drive and urged parents to purchase their bonds through the school children. She also spoke of the pre-school clinic for children entering first grade in September. This has been planned for May 11, in Mrs. T. H. Conway's kindergarten room, and records show there will be about 35 children to be given a checkup at that time.

Announcement was made of the Community-Council PTA meeting at the YWCA on May 15 and Mrs. Henry Pearlman reported nearly $210 realized in the recent rummage sale. The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge was reported speaker for the May 28 meeting of the unit. Mrs. Robert Beatty reported on the work of the by-laws committee and Mrs. Homer Culbertson for the petition presented to school board.

Mrs. Sidney W. Blackman, program chairman, presented the guest speakers, Mrs. Carl Hultberg, school nurse, and Dr. William L. Ball, sight specialist. Mrs. Hultberg, school nurse for 21 years, outlined how the health of school pupils is checked and spoke of the loss suffered when Miss Hazel Finley's work in nutrition was halted. She told of the audiometer used to check hearing, the iodine tablets to combat goitre and tests made for eyes. Her records showed 30 pupils in the East street building's enrollment of 223 wearing glasses; also that this tendency toward glasses is more prevalent in the older buildings, East, Johnson and South, than in newer schools.

Dr. Ball explained near and farsightedness and astigmatism, evidences of eye weaknesses and illustrated with blackboard drawings how charts are used in checking eye troubles.

The mongoose, noted killer of poisonous snakes, consumes the entire body of its victim, poison and all.

Homestead at Camp

More than 800 Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts will receive folders for the 1945 season at Camp Birdsall Edey. Established camp will open on June 24. Two sessions of one week each will be held for Brownie Scouts. Three sessions of two weeks each for Girl Scouts open on July 8.

Girls and their leaders are very proud of the fact they have a camp all their own. Pictured above is the homestead at Grunderville, the original building now housing the administrative offices of the camp program.

Mac, Forty and many of the other favorite camp counselors will be present this year. To those other than campers, Mac is known as Miss Mary Alice Clark, of Wichita, Kansas, and Forty is Miss Anna Fortmann, of Oil City.

Tents will again be used in the new unit for older girls. An enthusiastic response from senior girls and experienced campers has made this unit a permanent feature of the camp.

Perseverance Is Motto of Scouts At South Street

The motto of the Warren County Girl Scout Council has been, for some time, "Girl Scouting for every girl in Warren county who wants it" but no group has ever taken it as literally as the girls at South street school.

For two years, there was no troop at the school because it seemed impossible to interest enough adults to furnish leadership and a troop committee. At the insistence of Miss May Moran and of some of the girls, meetings were held in an attempt to induce mothers who wanted girl scouting for their daughters to take the responsibility of the troop.

Forty-eight girls said they wanted to be Girl Scouts or Brownie Scouts but only three mothers appeared at the first meeting. Not to be discouraged, those mothers laid plans to interest other mothers and they did their work so successfully that another meeting was held and plans were made to start a Brownie Scout troop.

In the four weeks since that first troop was started, leaders have been secured and another Brownie troop and a Girl Scout troop have been formed. A third Brownie troop is indicated and work on that is under way.

Brownie Scout Troop 36 under the leadership of Mrs. Carl McDonald and Mrs. Mike Bleach and Brownie Scout Troop 40, whose leaders are Mrs. Donald Anderson and Mrs. Earl Ericson have invited their mothers to the joint investiture service to be held at South street school at 3:30 Thursday afternoon, May 3.

Girl Scout Troop 60, under the leadership of Mrs. Pauline Holmberg and Mrs. Chas. Lane, met for the first time last week. Troop committees for the other two troops have been organized and instructed. A committee for Troop 60 is being formed.

OFF TO CAMP

In spite of transportation and ration problems, the Girl Scouts expect the biggest camping season in years. Why? Because camp life makes for health, gives valuable experience in how to rough it in comfort, and offers a recess from war tensions. In fact, camp is so popular with the Girl Scouts that they'll walk and carry, if necessary, to get there.

The first troop to spend the night at Camp Birdsall Edey, Warren county's own Girl Scout camp, in the 1945 season will be Troop 8, of Starbrick, which will go into camp on Saturday, May 5. Leaders of Troop 8 are Mrs. Ben White, Mrs. Richard McArthur and Miss Pauline Smith.

Scouting for Every Girl in County Who Wants It

FATHER GOES TO CAMP

Girl Scout fathers lend a hand, in these days of manpower shortage, to get things ready for a bumper season of camp fun for their daughters. The fathers have plenty of fun helping, too.

But for the fathers of Girl Scouts, there never would have been a Warren county Girl Scout camp. Not only fathers, but their friends and other men who are friends of Girl Scouting, have helped to make possible the happy experiences which have been enjoyed by Warren County Girl Scouts in the past ten summers.

Among the men who have helped, not only with expert advice but with manual labor, are Bishop E. Pinkney Wroth, Carl Rogers, MacLean Houston, Tom Ewing, F. L. Abendroth, Ralph Summerton of Fidioute, Aaron Lopez, Calvin Barwis, James Moran, T. L. Armstrong, Henry Otterson, employees of the Warren Water Company, Ernest Ellberg, George Betts, Merton Irvine, Clare Eyer, George Monroe, Freeman Peterson, R. W. Mackay, C. Vance Weld, Reagan Houston, Theodore Speckman and Herman Streich.

When the pool was being built, a large group of Boy Scouts gave one day's labor, as did 28 men from the United Refinery. Many other men have contributed time, effort, money and goods to the end that the camp becomes more beautiful and useful each year.

Steady Progress Is Seen In History of Girl Scouts

When it is desirable and necessary that a new organization be formed, generally the need is seen by two or more people simultaneously. This held true in the formation of the Warren County Girl Scout Council.

There were lone troops in Kinzua, Russell, Sheffield and Warren. Mrs. Ira G. Darling, of Russell, and Mrs. E. Pinkney Wroth, of Warren, both felt the need of an organization for strengthening of Girl Scout backing in their communities and for clearing on activities.

At almost the same time, Mrs. Darling asked Miss Gertrude White, of Kinzua, to meet with her, and Rev. and Mrs. Wroth called a meeting in Warren of all interested people. Eventually, all the groups met together and the council was formed.

May 2, 1935, saw the completion of the framework of the council. Miss Virginia Hughes, a member of the Girl Scout national staff, came to guide the local people in forming the organization which was headed by Mrs. Ira A. Darling of North Warren as commissioner.

Other officers of the original Girl Scout Council were: deputy commissioner, Mrs. E. P. Wroth; secretary, Mrs. E. E. Koebley; treasurer, Mrs. D. J. Howard, of Sheffield.

Within a few months, Mrs. Darling resigned and Mrs. E. P. Wroth was elected commissioner. The council constitution limits the number of terms that any officer may serve, so that three years is the longest time a person may serve in one capacity. Mrs. Wroth was followed by Mrs. T. L. Armstrong, Mrs. R. W. Mackay, and the present commissioner, Mrs. C. Vance Weld.

In 1937, an office was opened in the West Penn Oil Company Building at Liberty street and third avenue. Miss Margaret Barner was employed as executive secretary, and Miss Jeanette Eldred was engaged as part-time office secretary.

Many troops were organized and growth was rapid during the next few years. In September, 1938, the office was moved to the Jamieson residence on Market street and, later, to the office at 219 Fourth avenue, where it remains.

The present executive secretary, Mrs. Althea N. Correll, was employed in March, 1939. The staff consists of Mrs. Correll and the office secretary, Mrs. Louise Shafer. Several times during the past ten years, the organization has completely outgrown its budget as well as its quarters. Due to the support of the Community Chest and the United War Fund, it has been possible to continue to grow.

With 53 troops to supervise and more than 100 leaders to train, a field secretary has become a necessity. The staff and office committee, under the leadership of Mrs. E. E. Koebley, is now interviewing applicants for the position.

Leadership of Girl Scout troops is all furnished by volunteers, who gave upward of 4,500 hours of unpaid service last year. Council members of standing committees of the council gave nearly an equal amount of their time for the girls of Warren county.

More than 800 girls are active in Girl Scout and Brownie Scout troops in Warren county at the present. If there were leaders available for the girls who are waiting to be Girl Scouts, the number would be increased by several hundred. However, in spite of war conditions, the past year has been notable for the growth in leadership. The organization committee, of which the chairman is Mrs. N. K. Wendelboe, has been active constantly in enlisting leaders.

The aim of the Girl Scout council is to provide Girl Scouting for every girl who wants it. This objective can be attained only by consistent growth in volunteer leadership, professional staff and budget. If the same rate of growth can be maintained, the goal should be reached within three years.

Scout Council Has Three Very Special Events

For its anniversary year, the County Girl Scout Council has three special events, two of which fall in this anniversary week. The first is the "family" dinner being held at the YWCA activities building this evening at 6:30 o'clock; the second, the pageant of freedom at the high school at 8 p. m. Friday.

The third anniversary event is the service project of providing four boxes of books for children in foreign lands, Russia, Holland, Greece and Poland. Each box contains approximately 30 books, together with a scrapbook of pictures and descriptions of Girl Scout life in Warren county and an empty scrapbook, which it is hoped the recipients will fill and return to the girls here.

The first box, that which goes to Poland, has been nearly filled and will be exhibited at the dinner at the YW this evening. It has been decorated by Troop 55 of North Warren and others will be similarly done by groups of girls.

The box will be taken to New York on May 10 by Mrs. William Glassman for formal presentation at a dinner and ceremonial.

Many council members and leaders have worked on plans for the celebration, all under the able leadership of Mrs. Everett Eddy, chairman.

Births in Germany during the first half of 1944 were reported to have shown an increase of 8 per cent over the first half of 1943.

Nostradamus, noted astrologer also wrote a book entitled, "How Women May Make Themselves Beautiful in Face and Form."

Perfumes have been used ever since human being populated the earth.

Named For Her

Birdsall Otis Edey, for whom Camp Birdsall Edey was named, was one of the best loved women who ever led the Girl Scout organization. Five times national president, Mrs. Edey was the only person ever to carry the title of national commissioner, an office created for her and ended with her death in March, 1940.

In April, 1940, the Warren County Girl Scout Council secured from national headquarters and from Mrs. Edey's daughter permission to use her name for the Warren camp.

Mrs. Edey, who had friends in every civilized country in the world, made her first trip to Europe at the age of seven. For several years before her death, she was chairman of the international committee of the Girl Scouts and worked as faithfully for the girls of 37 countries as she ever had for the girls of the United States.

An ardent camper, it is fitting that a camp be named for this woman, who brought laughter with her wherever she went and who loved a joke at her own expense. Mrs. Edey's name also lives through her books, several volumes of short stories and poems attesting to her love of people and her understanding heart.

Haynes Twirls One-Hitter To Shut Out Bengals, 5-0; Eases Jimmy Dykes' Worries

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Joe Haynes owned the best pitched game of the infant American League season today on a one-hit job against Detroit that eased manager Jimmy Dykes' worries about Bill Dietrich's sore arm.

Although the Chicago White Sox were sailing along in first place at a 5-2 win pace, Dykes was beginning to wonder how long it could last after Dietrich underwent an operation for removal of four bone chips from his pitching elbow. The doctors said the expectant ace would be lost for at least a month.

New Baseball Head To Fight For 4-F Men

St. Louis, Mo., May 2 (AP)—Baseball's commissioner-elect, Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler, is ready to fight for the right of 4-F ball players to play baseball. "Just because a man's able to play two hours of a certain sport is no indication that he is fit for military service," the Kentucky senator said in an interview. "I believe a 4-F is a 4-F regardless of what his profession might be. Merely because a man is a baseball player and a 4-F doesn't mean his draft board should reclassify him and put him into the service."

The commissioner-elect used his press conference yesterday to clarify his stand on horse racing as it concerns baseball. He advised players and umpires to stay away from the race tracks to avoid possible public censure, but at the same time said he saw no reason to attach a stigma to racing or to men connected with it.

One-Third Of All Stars In Service

St. Louis, Mo., May 2 (AP)—With the induction of Walker Cooper into the navy, one-third of the major league stars who participated in the all-star game at Pittsburgh last July 11 have entered the armed forces.

Cooper will be sworn into the navy today and leave for the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Other stars from the game now include: Outfielder Thurman Tuer, Chicago White Sox; Outfielder Stan Spence, Washington Senators; Third Baseman Ken Keltner, Cleveland Indians; Second Baseman Bobby Doerr, Boston Red Sox; Pitcher Tex Hughson, Boston Red Sox; Catcher Rollie Hemisley, New York Yankees; Third Baseman Pinky Higgins, Detroit Tigers; Outfielder Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals; Catcher Ray Mueller, Cincinnati Reds; Second Baseman Connie Ryan, Boston Braves.

Baski To Meet Lane At Chicago Coliseum Tonight

Chicago, May 2 (AP)—Joe Baski, the Kulpmont, Pa., coal miner currently ranked sixth among the nation's heavyweights, and formerly listed as Number 1 title contender, will try to take a step back toward that rating tonight when he meets Harry Lane of Trenton, N. J., in a 10-round main event bout at the Coliseum. Baski, who expects to weigh in at 210 pounds—a 20-pound advantage over the Trenton puncher—was favored. After dropping a decision to Lee Oma in New York Jan. 26, Kaski has won from Gunar Barlund in Miami, Fla., and Lou Nova in New York.

Four other bouts, featuring heavyweights, are on the card.

Legalization of Pari-Mutuel Betting In House

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—Proposed legalization of pari-mutuel betting on horse racing was ready for a house vote today with the Republican majority leaving the decision to individual members. The GOP caucuses took no action on the legislation which would permit referenda in municipalities to decide if race tracks should be established.

An amendment inserted yesterday limits returns to track owners to six per cent instead of eight per cent as originally proposed.

ACCEPTS NEW POSITION

Homer W. Fleming, formerly physical instructor at the Beatty Junior High School, has accepted a post in similar capacity at the Belmont, N. Y., High School. Fleming accepted a coaching position in a New Jersey high school last September but went into YMCA work in Massachusetts on January 1 of this year. He will return to Warren for the summer, spending six weeks as a physical coach at "Sox" Harrison's Edinboro camp.

Sun. Hockey Escapes Death In The House

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—A senate-approved measure to permit ice hockey games and exhibitions after municipal referenda came up for a vote today in the house, with the outcome in doubt.

The bill narrowly escaped return to committee and possible death by a 50-76 vote yesterday, after Democratic Leader Hiram G. Andrews insisted the house law and order committee be given a chance to scrutinize the proposal.

"This bill belongs back in the law and order committee," asserted Andrews, "because it has a trail of slime. This bill is worth $25,000 to some party's campaign fund and it isn't my party."

Andrews pointed out the measure was introduced April 17 and was reported out the following day by the senate committee of forests and waters and game and fish. In the house, the measure was approved by the municipal corporations committee.

Asserting ministers have protested the speed with which the bill has gone through the legislature, Andrews said they should have an opportunity of presenting their views.

Objections to returning the bill were made by Rep. W. Henry Elder (R-Lycoming).

Behind the Lines

This is an appeal—an appeal to every person, not only in Warren but to every patriotic citizen in this nation.

Did you ever stop to realize that there are, everyday, at least 1000 wounded servicemen being brought into the United States, which amounts, in a week, to 7000; in a month 30,000; and in a year 375,000? These men have been fighting not for themselves but so that you and I can live where we want to and do what we want to without being watched.

An appeal has been sent out for new or used golf balls, to be used in the various hospitals throughout the nation by these wounded men so that their health may be regained more quickly. These wounded soldiers have to have some sort of exercise to get back into normal physical and mental health, and one of the best ways to do that is through golfing. Yes, golf balls are scarce, and maybe the situation isn't as mild as all that.

An appeal has also been made for baseball equipment, to be used at the Bull Hill Prisoner-of-War camp by the guards there. There is a large number of these guards who, when off duty, want to play baseball but they are without the needed equipment—balls, bats, and gloves.

The appeal has been made in Warren by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, under the direction of Homer Fitch. So, won't you take a look in the cellar, or in the attic, or even out in the garage, and see if you can't scout out a few golf balls or some baseball equipment. Those boys will appreciate it to no end. Donations should be made to the VFW and you may call 30 or Homer Fitch.

Manager Bill McKechnie, of Cincinnati, is beginning to worry considerably over the slow start of his ace pitcher, Bucky Walters.

Kerly Farrell, former Erie Sailor manager, is proving a pinch hitter deluxe with the Chicago White Sox . . . Bob Garbark, basketball head at Allegheny College, is also proving his worth behind the mound with the Boston Red Sox . . . Ken Raffensberger, ace right-hander of the Philadelphia Phils' pitching staff was inducted into the service yesterday . . . The High School baseball league continues again tonight at Russell Field . . . Members of the National Forge baseball team held their opening practice Monday at Wilder Field . . . Meadville High's 1945-6 basketball season lists 24 games on the slate, but the cagers are still wondering who their coach will be . . . Frank McCormick has hit 100 home runs in the National League competition, is now starting for the second 100. The Reds' first baseman has also specialized in doubles, has 252 to his credit. For seven seasons he has averaged better than 100 runs better in and has reeled off 632 consecutive games.

ISSUE MUSHBALL CALL

My name is Dorothy Baker. I'm the "Yes Man" at Personal Finance Co. . . . that is—I'm the one who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the one who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. See me at Personal Finance Co., 216 Liberty St., second floor, over Lester Shoe Store. Phone 255.

Quisling Having Cabinet Trouble

By ROBERT N. STURDEVANT
Stockholm, May 2.—(AP)—Free Norwegian circles reported today that the Vidkun Quisling government in Norway had resigned, but that Quisling had asked the cabinet members to remain on "until another Norwegian government is in a position to take over power." A proclamation to this effect was sent to the Norwegian Telegraph Bureau, Quisling's news agency, with instructions to broadcast it from the Oslo station. The order was stopped, however, by the German reichs-commissar for Norway, a Norwegian source here said.

Norwegian legation quarters said Quisling's unofficial foreign minister Stoen had gone to Copenhagen in Denmark. With Dr. Werner Best he was said to be consulting there with a Swedish delegation undertaking to arrange the surrender of German troops in both Norway and Denmark.

West Chester, May 2.—(AP)—The founder of Mother's Day, Miss Anna M. Jarvis, blind and a patient at the Marshall Square Sanatorium here, was 81 years old yesterday. She received truckloads of flowers and congratulatory messages from friends and governors in many states.

More Details On Death Of Sgt. Graziano

Supplementing word just received that their son had been killed in action in Germany, Mr. and Mrs. Felice Graziano, 1109 Spring street, have had the following letter from Father Diezeman, Catholic chaplain with the 309th Infantry:

"Recently the War Department had the solemn duty of informing you of the death of your son, William T. Graziano, 33410663. He was killed in action on 10 April 1945 at Winterborn, Germany. A Catholic chaplain conducted appropriate burial services according to his faith, and his remains were interred in a United States military cemetery located at Ittenbach, Germany, along with others who have fallen in battle.

"I realize that this loss to you is irreparable, and my only wish at this time is that I could express my sympathy adequately. His manifestation of strong character, manliness and courage remain a memory in this regiment. This memory gives us additional strength and determination to fulfill our mission. We are proud to have had him in our regiment. "The great things of the world have been purchased by sacrifice and suffering. God gave His only begotten Son that men may be redeemed and inherit eternal life. May you be comforted with the knowledge that your sacrifice was given that the good and worth while things of the world might endure. (Signed) Father Diezeman."

HITLER--In Many Roles Along Road to Disaster

HIGHLIGHTS IN LIFE OF FUEHRER NOW REPORTED DEAD

DOLPH HITLER, sickly son of an Austrian peasant woman, a common soldier in World War I, a post-war failure who drifted uselessly until he was 30, became ruler of Germany at 44 and, as one of the most ruthless conquerors since Attila the Hun, came nearer to dominating the world than had any man before him. But his power, built on the blood and misery of the millions he conquered, including the German people, collapsed about him. Thus he ended his meteoric career as he started it—a failure—at bay before the wrath of the world's outraged humanity. As an agitator in 1919, he and six other malcontents formed what was to be the Nazi party in Munich. The abortive "beer hall" putsch of 1923 failed, he was later arrested and sent to jail, where he wrote "Mein Kampf", the Nazi bible. By strong-arm methods and political craft, he finally won leadership of Germany, tricking aged Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the president, into making him Reich chancellor. Once firmly in the saddle, he and his cohorts intensified the drive for a world-dominating Germany. A master spellbinder, his voice hypnotized his followers and lulled the alarmed democracies into fatuous acceptance of his promises. Looking to the future, he poisoned the minds of a whole growing generation of Germans by indoctrinating the nation's children with Nazi ideology. When the Fuehrer threatened war, Britain swallowed its pride and permitted its Prime Minister, Neville Chamberlain, to fly to Hitler and appease him. It worked—temporarily—but when Hitler was ready, he unleashed the war he had planned all along. He strutted in ravaged Poland and the great War Lord. One by one his armies overran weaker nations. France fell quickly and he danced with glee when his troops paraded under the Arc de Triomphe. But his days as conqueror were numbered. He made the fatal mistake of attacking Russia and declaring war on the U. S. From then on his path, though studded with intermittent victories, was inexorably down hill. If he is dead, he ended a hunted, hated man, his country devastated, his people ruined.
